

COOLIDGES QUIET WORSHIPERS AT CHURCH IN SALEM

Little Congregation Taken by Surprise.

Swampscott, Mass., July 5.—[Special.]—President Coolidge observed his first Sunday at the summer White House today by attending the Tabernacle Congregational church at Salem in the morning and remaining quietly at White Court in the afternoon.

Only a handful of churchgoers were in the pews when the President and Mrs. Coolidge, accompanied by Frank W. Stearns and secret service men, entered the church shortly before 11 o'clock. The word quickly spread, however, that the President was in town, and before the minister began his sermon close to two hundred worshipers were in their seats. When the President left, the street in front of the church steps was crowded with Salem citizens.

No notice was given to the officials of the church that the President was coming until a few minutes before churchtime. Dr. William H. Spencer, the regular pastor, was out of town, and Dr. C. H. Beale, a retired minister, who formerly had preached for twenty years in Milwaukee, Wis., preached the sermon.

GERMAN CENSUS SHOWS 5½ PCT. RISE OVER 1919

BERLIN, July 5.—(AP)—Provisional figures of the census taken last month show that the population of Germany is roughly 62,500,000, excluding the Saar region, the population of which is estimated at another 750,000. Thus the population of Germany is about the same as it was in 1908, whereas at the outbreak of the war it was roughly 63,000,000.

It is estimated that Germany lost nearly 7,000,000 by the cessation of various territories under the peace treaty, another 2,500,000 by deaths in the war, and 2,500,000 through a decreased birth rate during the war.

Berlin, with a population of 3,900,000, is still the second largest city of Europe.

COOLIDGE THIRD TERM IS URGED BY MULVANE, KANSAS G. O. P. LEADER

Swampscott, Mass., July 5.—[Special.]—David W. Mulvane, Republican national committee-man from Kansas, and one of the strong Republican leaders of the west, has fired the opening gun in the fight to put President Coolidge in the White House for a third term.

Committee-man Mulvane, who is spending the summer at Magnolia, a suburb of Boston, said today that in his opinion President Coolidge would be given the support of the west if he wants a third term.

According to the committee-man, the President's practical economy in governmental affairs has entrenched him strongly in the west.

"The Republican party is receiving the credit for the increased prosperity throughout the west," Mr. Mulvane said. "The farmers like him, and I do not believe they will be disturbed by any of the traditional arguments against a third term."

Mr. Mulvane will be remembered as one of the Republicans in the fight against a third term for Roosevelt in 1912.

KILLS GIRL AND SELF WHEN THEIR ROMANCE FADES

Her Parents, Church Laws
Forbade Wedding.

Laws of the church and the will of parents prevented Fred Scheuing, 22 years old, 6956 South May street, from wedding the girl of his choice. Yesterday he became desperate and shot his sweetheart to death, then turned the gun on himself and ended his life.

That was the only solution at which the police, investigating the two deaths, could arrive. The young woman, who was alone with Scheuing in her home when the shooting occurred, was Miss Susie Otten, 20 years old. She lived at 6958 South May street, next door to Scheuing.

Believe Girl Fought for Life. The police could only surmise the details of the tragedy, but from information obtained from neighbors they deduced that Miss Otten frantically resisted. Her screams and a heavy stamping of feet attracted the attention of Mrs. Hattie Holtz, living in the flat beneath. She said the shots followed quickly afterward.

Miss Otten's mother, who is separated from her husband, was visiting relatives, the police were told, and at a late hour had not been informed of her daughter's death. Scheuing's mother, a widow, and his sister both were at a summer resort.

Dr. Joseph Springer, chief coroner's physician, said his examination of the bodies proved that Scheuing first fired four shots into the girl's head and breast and then fired the remaining two bullets in his gun into his left chest and head. The fact that two bullets were found in Scheuing's body, and that one had passed through his back, at first caused Capt. Michael Lee of the Englewood police to suspect a double murder.

Her Parents Object. From Mrs. Minnie Roach, who lives in the same building as did the girl, Dr. Springer learned that Scheuing and Miss Otten had been sweethearts, but had broken up their romance six months ago when her parents objected to a marriage. The objections were based, Mrs. Roach said, on Scheuing's being a divorced man, the Otten's religion forbidding divorce.

The police learned that Scheuing was a heavy drinker, and that once, while intoxicated, he fell over a banister three stories to the ground. Since that time Scheuing has acted queerly, the police were informed.

Scheuing died at the Englewood hospital a short time after he was taken there.

TWO YOUTHS, WHO FIGHT FOR GIRLS, GO TO HOSPITAL

Two youths who played the part of gallants when two strangers crashed in at a party given by Miss Alice Lohman, 1233 West Jackson boulevard, and insulted several of the girls, are in the Emergency hospital with knife wounds. They are Norman Cochran, 1218 West Jackson boulevard, and Paul Suskin, 1218 West Jackson boulevard. They told the police they did not know the men and paid no attention to them until they made disparaging remarks about the girls. Then a fight started. Other members of the party were taken to the Des Plaines street police station in an effort to learn the names of the strangers.

PARIS, July 5.—A general uprising of most of the tribes in Morocco, friendly to France, both in front and behind their lines, has commenced, according to a communique issued by Premier Painleve tonight. Sultan Moulay Youssef's capital, Fez, and the strategic town of Taza, are gravely menaced, as well as the main railway to Algeria.

The friendly Fichtala and Cheraga tribes, which have defended Fez, and the friendly Toulou and Branes tribes, which have defended Taza, joined the Rifians yesterday, and the Rifian warriors and propagandists are pouring through the two gaps made by the revolts into the territories of other tribes which have been helping the French.

Moulay Lyautoy, French high commander, has only a force of 100,000 of which two-thirds are French officers and native troops. This force is completely inadequate.

Lyautoy Asks 80,000 Troops.

He has now sent an urgent message to Paris refusing to take the responsibility for the security of the vast French empire in Morocco unless the government sends him at least 80,000 French troops. In the face of the general apathy and violent Bolshevik propaganda in France and the aggressive German spirit on the Rhine, the government is hesitant about sending him reinforcements.

The outstanding danger of the situation as seen here by some leaders, is not the possibility of a great military disaster in Morocco and France's loss of all northern Africa, but the temptation it would give Germany to employ a high hand in Europe and upset all peace settlements.

The moment France suffers serious defeat in Africa, it is feared, Germany would annex Austria, and with the moral or material help of Russia impose a more favorable frontier on Poland.

The communist congress in Paris approved tonight the principle of a strike against war in Morocco and named an executive committee of 150 with full powers to decide the date and period of the strike.

French-Spanish Parley Fails.
The French-Spanish conference in Madrid to establish an entente against the Rif has failed.

The Spanish government has refused to join France in operations against Abd-el Krim, and also refused to allow the French to pursue the Rifians into the Spanish zone, fearing it would prejudice their effort to make peace with Krim, which they are seeking at any price.

The new delegations have reached an inconclusive decision to offer peace terms to Krim under which he must lay down part of his arms. There is not the slightest possibility that Krim will accept the terms drawn up.

French Attack Rifians.

The French army attacked the Rifians all along a 200 mile front in Morocco this morning.

A communique announces the French forces are at grips in front of the town of Taza with an important group of Rifians, but states the French are driving back the enemy everywhere else, particularly in front of Ouezzan, where heavy artillery and aviation bombed the enemy villages. The communique says the Rifians are being demoralized by the air and artillery bombing.

Attempts to Drown Self.

Wakes Up in Jail Cell

Frank Meagher, 447 South Michigan avenue, would like to drown the cat upon which, he says, his wife lavishes more affection than she does upon him. But, instead, he attempted to drown himself on Independence day. Whisky was the drowning medium. And so Meagher and his companion, Robert Brown, 5038 Evans avenue, are in the jail of the Warren avenue police station.

ITALY URGED TO ASK MORATORIUM ON U. S. WAR DEBT

ROME, Italy, July 5.—(AP)—Commenting on the debt situation, the Messaggero asks at what rate of exchange should Italy be called on to repay her debts. It argues that it would be absurd to demand the rate prevailing when the loan was made, because Italy received neither the American nor the British loan in dollars or sterling, but in raw material. Thus, says the paper, if Italy must pay at present rate of exchange the loan will have quadrupled in amount.

The Messaggero urges the reasonableness of a ten year moratorium at least, thus giving Italy an opportunity to bring her economic status, and consequently her currency, back to what it was when the loan was made and then perhaps it would be possible to begin normal payments. The paper alludes to the lenient terms accorded Germany when the mark collapsed and asks if a nation which fought for the common cause with the rest of the allies should be given less generous treatment.

Love Affairs of Girl, 16, to Be Aired in Court

The love affairs of Mildred Bers, 16 years old, who tried to make her folks sorry they would not let her marry Paul Richert, 19 years old and jobless, by pretending that she had committed suicide, will be aired next Monday in boys' court when Paul will answer to charges of contributing to the girl's delinquency. The pair had been staying with the girl's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Nelson, near Humboldt park, while the girl's relatives thought she had drowned herself.

Many are prone to think of eyeglasses purely as instruments of vision; but, in a very real sense, they are also articles of apparel. TRIBUNE TOWER IS COMPLETED; OPEN TO PUBLIC

spect It Today.

255 architects, of whom 170 dwelt in the United States, 37 in Germany, 11 in Holland, 9 in Italy, 6 in France, 6 in Switzerland, 5 in Austria, 5 in England, 4 in Canada, 3 each in Norway and Scotland, 2 each in Spain, Hungary, Belgium, Denmark, Finland and Cuba, and one each in Serbia, Luxembourg, Poland, Australia, New Zealand and Mexico. Eight were anonymous. Judges' Decisions Were Unanimous.

The competition was limited to licensed architects and was defined by Howard L. Chesny, A. I. A., in a cordial address with the rules of the American Institute of Architects. It was opened June 1, 1922. Five months later, at a dinner given on the evening of Dec. 2, 1922, in the Tribune plant, announcement of the awards was made.

The judges of award were Robert R. McCormick and Joseph Medill Patterson, co-editors of THE TRIBUNE; Edward Scott Beck, managing editor; W. H. Onderdonk, manager of Tribune real estate, and Alfred Granger, A. I. A. Their decisions were unanimous.

Bertram M. Winston was chairman of an advisory committee which cooperated with the judges of award.

Messrs. Howells and Hood—whose names are now whimsically commemorated in the tremendous screen of Bedford limestone above the Michigan boulevard entrance of Tribune Tower by the sculptured, grotesques of a dog that is emitting howls and of Robin Hood winding his horn—came into the principal prize of $50,000. The second—$20,000—went to Elliel Saarinen of Helsinki, Finland, winner of the second prize in the competition for designs for the Peace palace at The Hague. Messrs. Holabird & Roche of Chicago won the third prize, $10,000. Honorariums aggregating $20,000 were presented to 10 representative American architects as tokens of THE TRIBUNE'S appreciation of their participation in the contest.

All One Building.

At the gala dinner of that December evening in THE TRIBUNE plant Mr. Howells, addressing a notable company of civic officials and architects, made this significant utterance: "We feel that in this design we have produced a unit. It is not a tower or a top placed on a building. It is all one building. It will climb into the air naturally."

Those words were spoken in the closing month of 1922. Thirty-one months have now fulfilled John Mead Howells' prophecy. Tribune Tower does not achieve its effects of height and majesty by the piling of what might be separate buildings one atop the other. From the base of its piers to its battlemented tiers it is a unit.

Ground was broken for the Tower May 24, 1923. Twenty-five months have brought the completion of the most impressive Gothic tower which the world has seen since the day when that prelate at once so humane and so magnificent, Georges d'Amboise, who was a bishop at the age of 14 and became cardinal archbishop of Rouen at the age of 33, blessed the completion of the Tour de Beurre of his cathedral of Notre Dame four centuries ago.

The Tower's Inspiration.

That tower in Rouen, which Mr. Howells himself has called "this lovely tower" and has pronounced "Europe's finest Gothic tower," is the immediate inspiration of Tribune Tower, and is its prototype without being in any slavish sense its model.

One contrast afforded by the construction of the two towers will delight minds that love to dwell—as the mind of Manassah did—upon those prodigious advances in mechanics by which mankind now accomplishes in a matter of months tasks to which our forefathers gave half a lifetime. The Tour de Beurre was 24 years a-building. Tribune Tower, whose height from the ground level is nearly twice the height of the Tour de Beurre, was completed in as many months, plus one.

Product Rewards Observation.

The product of the technical skill and poetic feeling of Messrs. Howells and Hood richly rewards observation and is of large significance in the history of Gothic architecture—the new period in its history which has to do with the adaptation of an ancient and opulent form to the demands of the commercial skyscraper. Tribune Tower possesses, in truth, large local, structural and, its projectors like to think, spiritual significance. Its local and spiritual significance to the population of three millions dwelling within view of its crowning finials is expressed in the hymning words from John Ruskin's "Seven Lamps of Architecture"—the section of that epochal work called "The Lamp of Memory"—which are reverently inscribed upon the floor of the tower's great entrance hall. The passage reads:

"Therefore when we build, let us think that we build forever. Let it not be for present delight, nor for present use alone; let it be such work as our descendants will thank us for, and let us think, as we lay stone on stone, that a time is to come when those stones will be held sacred because our hands have touched them, and that men will say as they look upon the labor and wrought substance of them, 'See! this our fathers did for us.'"

Milton's Voice Is Heard.

Other voices speak to the passerby of the aspiration which Tribune Tower breathes. The organ voice of John Milton takes up the intoning of the prophet voice of Ruskin. A few feet above the tower's corner stone, which is visible at the left of the main entrance, is carved on stone a sentence from Milton's "Areopagitica," or "Speech for the Liberty of Unlicensed Printing," an utterance which Prescott called the most splendid argument, perhaps, the world had then witnessed in behalf of intellectual liberty. "Tis now nearly three centuries old, but it is as vibrant and as vital today as it was in the reign of Charles. These words from the plea have been chiseled on the Tower:

"Give me liberty to know, to utter and to argue freely according to my conscience, above all other liberties."

A poet in his thirty-sixth year wrote that, and it speaks with stern admonition to our time because John Milton in addition to being a poet was a visionary publicist. Far aloft, in the office of one of our chiefs, the present speaks pitifully back to Milton in lines composed by the chief and carved above a massive mantelpiece on the twenty-fourth floor. They are his definition of the modern newspaper's obligation and opportunity:

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the News of the day, to foster Commerce and Industry, to inform and lead Public Opinion, and to furnish that check upon Government which no Constitution has ever been able to provide."

Epitome of City's Adventure.

Such are the esthetic and the journalistic ideals of which this new edifice is an epitome. It is likewise an epitome of that magnificent adventure, the upbuilding of Chicago, from the very heart of whose first settled portion the tower rises. It symbolizes for the readers of the first issue of THE TRIBUNE, a handful of whom still are living, the paper's journey—short in distance but long in time—from the clapboarded, two-story shanty which stood at the northwest corner of Lake and Clark streets where we were writing and printing THE TRIBUNE—in one room over neighbor Gray's grocery store—seventy-five years ago this summer. It takes our venerable readers from those meager beginnings to this castle where flying buttresses three hundred feet aloft—spring in spans sixty feet high. It takes them from pine shingles to ponderous masonry of lead. It takes them from the Mexican war and the second year of the administration of Polk and Dallas to the first year of Coolidge and Dawes and the vaster problems of a world war's aftermath. It utters the contrasts and makes the progress of eight momentous decades of our nation's history, a period in which eighteen Presidents of the United States have done their work and gone their ways.

There is an even larger view, an even longer perspective.

For, esthetically, Tribune Tower links our today with the last decade of medievalism and is a mighty symbol of artistic kinship between illustrious Rouen on the Seine and our city at the foot of Lake Michigan.

Related to Tower in Rouen.

Tribune Tower is first cousin to the tower which is the glory of Rouen. In that key city of Normandy at the junction of the three rivers there rises to a height of 253 feet at the southwest corner of the Cathedral of Notre Dame the celebrated Tour de Beurre, a perfect specimen of the late Norman florid Gothic. Elizabeth Boyle O'Reilly, a scholar and devotee who wrote lovingly of the Tour de Beurre, declared it to be the supreme belfry that sprang up to commemorate the freeing of France from the English yoke.

The relationship between that tower and ours is not fanciful. Mr. Howells makes grateful and specific acknowledgment of it, saying of his and Mr. Hood's design:

"Tribune Tower was designed to rise to the limit allowed by the Chicago building code, and above that point to continue with diminishing horizontal sections, ending above its Gothic tourelles [little towers] and finials in a final circular crown or platform. This description in a way designates the design of the famous Tour de Beurre at Rouen, and it is a singular thing that, while Tribune Tower was designed step by step to conform to the Chicago building code, it should not, in general intention of design, be unlike Europe's finest Gothic tower, which was designed quite free of any building code whatever. Was that tower built in the fifteenth century with a mission, perhaps, of showing Chicago how to frame its buildings code?"

Why Eye Is Drawn Upward.

In one aspect of the architectural treatment of the tower the layman will be especially interested. He no doubt has asked himself, as we ask him now, what it is that so surely and firmly draws his eye from the Michigan boulevard level of the tower up, up, and still up, more than 450 feet, to the stone corona of the building. What does this is the masterful employment of deep reveals, the effective use of which is a decisive proof of genius in architecture. That proof Howells and Hood have given.

The reveal in architecture is the side of an opening for a window (or doorway) between the window frame and the outer surface of the building's wall. The deep reveals—or extraordinary depth from the outer face of the walls of this building to its windows—are what give it the character and the thrill of soaring piers and battlements. Because this tower is of far vaster bulk and greater height than any Gothic tower previously erected, it was essential to carry its lines aloft with undeniable emphasis. Otherwise you would behold only bulk and you would not be thrilled.

Hood and Howells solved the problem thus created by emphasizing the reveals. Thereby they grouped their masses in an interesting and exhilarating manner. They did it at a sacrifice of many a dollar's worth of rentable floor space—but they did it.

Emphasize Continuous Lines.

They further emphasized the very strong continuous lines which fascinate your gaze by the use of leaden spandrels. You may have wondered whether the metal plates—with their relieving now of the American eagle and the 5-pointed American star, now finials in a final circular crown or platform. This description in a way designates the design of the famous Tour de Beurre at Rouen, and it is a singular thing that, while Tribune Tower has more than a decorative purpose. They have. Those spandrels—dull, leaden bluish in hue—harmonize with the glass of the windows, which are hung with dark blue shades, and they thus emphasize the soar of the reveals instead of giving the structure the trivial checkerboard effect which is the blight and blemish of most skyscrapers.

The slanting corners of the edifice represent, like the reveals, a sacrifice made in the name of beauty. They emphasize the tower's masses. They give it distinction and deck it with illusion and with eloquent lights and shades. The number of square feet of floor space those four slants of forty-five degrees each cost is a matter which the projectors of Tribune Tower are determined never to calculate. Doing so they never could look Thrift in the face again.

Such is our tower in its larger esthetic aspects—its exterior significance.

Within, it has been packed with practicalities—a library of 10,000 volumes and daily growing, elevators that travel 800 feet a minute, fire towers that are not mere dizzying fire escapes but are commodious and reassuring, boiler rooms so clean and cool and airy that a fastidious man could shave in them and an ad taking room—more, a hall—that receives over telephone 350,000 want ads a year.

Fabricated in Sentiment.

Those are practicalities. But, within and without, beauty marches with them and sentiment touches all. Sentiment conceived and fabricated that enormous carved screen above the main entrance which we call "The Tree of Life"—or "Xmas's Screen"—and which imparts a score of quaint tales, and morals to adorn them, in stone 15 inches thick.

Sentiment assembled from remote shrines of the world and from seats of American culture the stones which have been chiseled out for us from the walls of memorable structures and given to us to be built into our building to the end that we might typify in a striking and interesting way Tribune Tower's kinship with the ages—the ages whose onward march it now serenely sentinels in this new land by the sea of sweet water over which it looks afar, a beacon and a benediction.

RUSSIA PLANS
4,000,000 TONS
GRAIN EXPORT

Expect Huge Return
Crop Taxation

BY DONALD DAY

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)
Copyright, 1925, by The Chicago Tribune
KIDIA, Latvia, July 5.—(U.P.)—The Soviet government expects to export between four and five million tons of grain from Russia in the fall and winter. According to Moscow reports, the central commission announced after visiting that Russia could produce heavy harvest this year, the total acreage sown being approximately 55,000,000 acres. The grain reserves will be to about 4,500,000 tons to provide for the famine of the winter when the Soviet exports grain. The Soviet government is making huge purchases of grain during the winter to starve the population of the other districts which have been hit by the famine.

Unknown to the world, the famine in Russia passed its peak last winter which killed thousands of lives. The famine included the districts of Ukraine and the lower Volga. According to the Soviet official newspapers, 15,000,000 persons were affected.

Brought Many Upset
Because of the failure of the harvest to keep its promise, the flour and seed grain, twenty local uprisings occurred, were suppressed by squadrons of cavalry. More than 200,000 persons were arrested.

RUSSIA PLANS 4,000,000 TON GRAIN EXPORT

Expect Huge Return from Crop Taxation.

BY DONALD DAY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
[Copyright, 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]
KGA, Latvia, July 5. — Provided weather conditions remain favorable, the soviet government expects to export between four and five millions of tons of grain from Russia in the coming fall and winter. According to the Moscow Investia, the central export commission announced after a recent meeting that Russia could expect a bumper heavy harvest this year, and that the total acreage sown would produce approximately 55,000,000 tons. The grain reserves will be increased to about 4,500,000 tons to prevent a recurrence of the famine of last year, when the soviet exported grain during the summer and was compelled to make huge purchases of grain and flour during the winter to feed the starving population of Ukraine and other districts which had poor harvests. Unknown to the world, huge districts in Russia passed through a famine last winter which cost many thousands of lives. The famine districts included the districts of the Ukraine and the lower Volga provinces. According to the Investia and other official newspapers, more than 15,000,000 persons were affected. Brought Many Uprisings. Because of the failure of the government to keep its promises to distribute flour and seed grain, more than twenty local uprisings occurred which were suppressed by squadrons of Cossack cavalry. More than 350 communist officials were assassinated in small towns and villages for reporting peasant tax dodgers who had evaded the grain tax.

BORDER FIRES

WARSAW, July 5. — (AP) — Border troubles between the soviets and Poles have brought a protest from the Russian minister, M. Wolkoff, who complains that a Polish guard at Volynia entered soviet territory and burned a soviet border post. It is said that the Poles did this as a reprisal for the abduction of a Polish officer by a soviet patrol that had entered Poland. The Poles assert that two other officers were made prisoners last week. Both the Poles and Russians have made these raids on each other periodically.

The grain tax, which supplanted the system of confiscating grain from the peasants, was figured out by the communist tax collecting commissions as they traveled from village to village. Since the tax often compelled the peasants to pay from one-third to one-half of their total crop many of these tax commissions disappeared. Later cheka detachments found bodies washed up on the sand banks of rivers or charred fragments of human bodies hidden in the forest. In the Pskov district the peasants hanged many of the communists with pieces of telegraph wire.

Expect Larger Tax Returns.

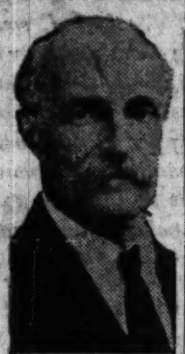

The trouble resulted in a new tax law being passed at the last meeting of the all Russian congress of soviets, who met in Moscow two months ago. Raca Larin, writing in the Moscow Investia, says that the new law will result in much larger tax returns. According to Larin, Russia has 20,000,000 farms which must be examined by village and district tax committees

SIGHT PINCHOT'S SENATE HOPE IN RAP AT MELLON

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., July 5. — (Special.) — Gov. Clifford Pinchot's attack on Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and the federal prohibition program in Portland, Ore., yesterday is interpreted here as a forerunner of the approaching Pennsylvania political campaign.

In which Pinchot is expected to seek the senatorial seat now held by Senator Pepper, Republican national committeeman and one of the leaders of the state organization. It has long been evident to political observers here that the governor would endeavor to make prohibition enforcement one of his principal issues.

In his Portland speech Gov. Pinchot declared the treasury head to be out of sympathy with the prohibition law, and to have "refused to carry out the duties of his office."

Although no reply came from Secretary Mellon during the day, it was pointed out by treasury officials that an official statement issued last week answered the governor's charge from the treasury viewpoint. The secretary's statement, coupled with a review of the government's fiscal operations for the year ending June 30, declared the plans of the treasury to make prohibition enforcement effective "were rapidly approaching consummation" and voiced the belief that "as a result of its experience and development, the treasury is better organized and equipped to make the Volstead act effective."

MALONE DENIES THERE'S ROW IN SCOPES DEFENSE

Says Darrow and Colby Won't Quit; Colby Mum.

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—A report that division existed in the legal camp of John T. Scopes, whose trial for teaching evolution in Tennessee is scheduled for July 10 at Dayton, was denied today. The report had it that Clarence Darrow and Colby had quarreled and that Darrow was to resign from the defense.

Darby Field Malone, another of the attorneys who are to seek the acquittal of Scopes, made the denial. At the same time Mr. Malone declared untrue another report that the American Civil Liberties union would leave the case to the lawyers.

Despite Mr. Malone's denial, Mr. Colby refused to comment on the report that he planned to withdraw from the defense.

The application will be for a temporary restraining order to prevent the state of Tennessee from proceeding with the trial at Dayton. If the temporary stay is granted, a date will be set for hearing of arguments on why the order should be made permanent. The application could be made at Knoxville, Chattanooga or Nashville.

Injunction Move Nearing.
O'Connell, Tenn., July 5.—(AP)—Apparently moving nearer and nearer the injunction effort to throw the Scopes evolution case into the federal courts, Dr. John R. Neal, chief defense counsel, arrived here today, presumably to seek an audience with Judge John J. Gore, United States district judge of middle Tennessee.

Dr. Neal has consistently refused to discuss the reports of a contemplated effort to secure an injunction, though he is not reticent in talking of his plans for the defense if Scopes is placed on trial at Dayton.

Child's Play, Bishop Calls It.
Warsaw, Ind., July 5.—Dr. Frederick H. Latta, Methodist Episcopal bishop of Indianapolis, considers the Scopes evolution case at Dayton, Tenn., as "child's play." He made this announcement in an address at Winona Lake today.

"I do not care to enter into a discussion of the subject of evolution," said Bishop Latta, "but I do feel that there is a great deal of commotion over this subject which is uncalled for."

ORGANIZED LABOR TO AID CRUSADE AGAINST TRAFFIC CASUALTIES

Washington, D. C., July 5.—(AP)—By agreement between Secretary Hoover and William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, arrangements have been made to bring labor organizations generally into service in the attempt to reduce traffic casualties.

Mr. Green, inquiring as to the work of the national conference on street and sidewalk safety, which held its first session last fall, suggested to Mr. Hoover that central labor organizations all over the country be given the reports and communications of the conference.

Secretary Hoover, accepting, also proposed that the labor organizations should arrange to hold local meetings for discussion of the safety methods under study by the conference. A policy of having labor representatives serve with municipal governments and civic associations in working to improve conditions also was outlined.

Note Telling of Kidnaping Leads Sleuths to Garage

A touring car raced south through Onarga, Ill., on the Egyptian trail late Saturday night. Some one saw a note fall from the car. It read "Help me quick. I have been taken from my mother at 8033 West Lake street. Help!" The president of the little village called the Chicago detective bureau. Detectives went to the address and found it to be the garage of the Livingston Bakery company. Officials there knew of no kidnaping.

A Gift From "Field's"

To bring home a gift from "Field's" is a happy tradition with many who visit Chicago. Perhaps something whimsical that reflects the personality of the recipient; something typical of Marshall Field & Company's searchings in far places for the rare and lovely; something reminiscent of Chicago. At this season, too, comes the pleasure of choosing a suitable gift for one's week-end hostess. All of these gift-problems may be delightfully solved by our Gift Secretary on the Second Floor, who is acquainted with the countless new and fascinating things through the store.

Elmer Harks Back to 4th for Radio Kick

Defense Day Broadcast Is Quite Thrilling.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.
To go back to last Saturday night is like going into ancient history, modern speed considered. Yet only twice in our lifetime have any of us heard that mechanically complex and psychologically impressive Defense day telephone and radiophone test program by the war department at Washington.

Something of its magnitude can be imagined when it is understood that twenty-eight stations, from coast to coast, were connected with the war department at Washington, with WEAH as the initial station, and the time from 9 to 10:45. KTW was the Chicago station.

The principal speakers were Gen. John J. Pershing, Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, Maj. Gen. Charles Saltsman, speaking from Washington; Dwight F. Davis and Walter S. Gifford, speaking from New York City; Vice President Charles G. Dawes and Maj. Gen. Harry C. Hale, speaking from Chicago.

Briefly, and as was the case last year, the program consisted of a mixture of informal chats between army officers; the reading of formal reports covering Defense day programs throughout the country, and brief addresses.

At the close of the broadcast one could feel that this test demonstrated that in an emergency practically every inhabitant in the country could be addressed by the President at Washington or, through telephone connections, by any number of speakers located anywhere in the country, including communication between the speaker at Washington and the speaker at any distant point.

Something new under the sun: The first broadcast of a Sunday afternoon Chicago parks free band concert was initiated by WGN, 3 to 5. Chicago has been slow in following the example of eastern stations in this popular feature.

It was the Lincoln park concert, given by the James H. Hensel band, with the assistance of vocal soloists. The entire summer series of concerts at Lincoln park will be broadcast.

They were pleasing selections yesterday, with a wealth of fine contrasting selections. Mixed with it were the chatter of happy, curious children; the applause of the large audience; also the refreshing companion thought that round about were the shade trees, green grass, passing automobiles, and a big blue lake to the east—thus does the announcer prompt our imagination.

Otherwise, later in the evening, though there was much of the good, there was nothing of the specially special.

BOBBED OF $31 ON STREET.

A. C. Diets, 1924 West Washington boulevard, was robbed of $31 by two men early yesterday at Wood and Madison streets. Diets reported to the Warren avenue police.

RADIO STATIONS ENTERTAIN KIDS LOST IN PARK

Lincoln park police had something to do yesterday besides direct traffic and see that bathing suits were of the proper size and consistency. Fifty-two children, lost by their parents, were taken to the station and turned over to Policeman Joseph Morper. Confronted by the task of entertaining them while they were his guests, Morper appealed to Harry Klatzko, superintendent of the Lincoln park system. WGN and other radio stations were asked to provide special entertainment for them and the visitors appeared well satisfied with the quality of the responses.

HISTORY SHOWS MUSSOLINI RULE IN 14TH CENTURY

ROME, July 5.—(AP)—Mussolini, the name which Italy's premier has written clearly across the pages of his nation's history, is not a new one in the annals of Italian government. Mussolini, who may be an ancestor of the creator of fascism, governed Perugia for a period of six months in the fourteenth century. Tommaso Mussolini, known in the Latin of the epoch as de Mussolinis de Bononia, was called from Volterra to take over the office of ruler of Perugia July 1, 1346, according to recently discovered records, which indicated that the bearer of the now famous name was an effective and beloved executive.

Nansen Board Advises Soviet Armenian Colonies

ERIVAN, Armenia, July 5.—(AP)—Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, league of nations relief commissioner, and the other members of the commission investigating colonization of 15,000 Armenian refugees in Soviet Armenia, have left for Europe. The commission selected two areas as suitable for colonization—one, of 60,000 acres, northwest of Erivan; and the other, of 45,000 acres, northeast of the city.

"Nobody can say I wasted my money". Peter De Paolo—1925 Indianapolis Race Winner

De Paolo and his new Buick

This statement from the young race driver, who purchased a Buick a week after he wheeled his car to victory at Indianapolis and broke the record of that famous Speedway, sums up the nation-wide opinion of Buick.

For, just as De Paolo recognizes the superiority of valve-in-head engines for the race track and personal use, so too have more than a million every-day motorists recognized the dependability and performance of Buick and the Valve-in-Head type of engine upon which Buick has concentrated for 21 years.

De Paolo bought a new Buick with part of the $39,000 prize money that he won on the Indianapolis Speedway and drove it to Altoona where he won the 250 mile race. He bought it with the motor car expert's discriminating eye for performance, for dependability and for genuine value. And his purchase, made solely because he has tried Buick and tested its performance for himself, is further evidence of the regard in which Buick is so universally held.

QUEBEC SOBERER THAN U. S., DUE TO MILD LIQUOR LAW

Country, City at Peace;
Crime Rate Falls.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Quebec, Quebec, July 5.—(Special.)—An eye survey of Quebec's great social improvement in liquor control he is hit in the eye by several tendencies of illuminating significance. Some of the most pronounced are:

1. Sobriety in wet Quebec is pervasive nowhere else in dripping dry America. Drunkenness has decreased under government control.

2. The swing is pronounced from an anti-social to milder beverages. Wine and beer are growing in consumption. Lighter stuffs are dropping, and the American tourist and bootlegger trade is still their mainstay.

3. The crime rate is falling and so is the rate of behavioristic offenses, which by the drys have always, the exception, been accounted an offspring of the demon rum.

4. The tolerance between country and city. Here lies the most tremendous and fundamental difference between wet Quebec and dry United States. In Quebec provinces, dry rural territory does not dream of imposing its tendencies on the industrial and commercial centers.

Church Helps Out Law.

5. The attitude of the clergy. The Quebec liquor commission concedes that the success of its operation is due basically to cooperation from the church, which keeps watch against intemperance and serves practically as a subterranean police, or censor.

6. In wet Quebec, the swing is strongly towards milder beverages, or dilution, while the tendency in dry United States is towards concentration, or synthetic beverages, or alcohol, taken almost neat.

The figures show the rapid drift to wards lighter stuffs, which was the theory on which the Quebec liquor act was constructed. To get a slant at the way it operates, regard the distributing plan. There are ninety government stores, the only places in which one may buy hard liquor. One bottle a day per person is the limit at each store. It is easy enough to get all one's thirst requires. One can have as much wine as he wishes to buy. None of these stores is in the country. All are in cities. They are not established in cities which do not want them, and of the total of ninety, thirty-seven are in the city of Montreal and ten in the city of Quebec.

Here's the Difference.

There are 567 taverns in the province, under government license, where beer and ale are sold for consumption on the premises. There is no bar or brass rail. Customers sit at tables. In these poor men's clubs one gets a fine quality of beer, 8 per cent stuff, at 5 or 10 cents a glass.

In the dumps in Chicago and New York beer of inferior quality costs generally a quarter. For twenty cents in Montreal or Quebec one can repair to a tavern and eat a cheese sandwich and drink a tall glass of 8 per cent lager, which is about what one paid in Chicago for similar enjoyments back in 1914, before the war.

One doesn't find any houses or pickles in these taverns. In the last few days this observer has been in at least a score of them. They are about as innocuous as the one arm restaurants of Chicago, which they greatly resemble, with their tile flooring and white enamel.

Wine and beer are sold with meals in 452 hotels and 81 restaurants in the province, but only with food. Otherwise wine and beer are sold in the government stores. Hours are strictly regulated. Taverns must not open before 9 o'clock and must close at 10 o'clock. Sunday is a closed day.

The family trade gets its beer in bottled quantity from licensed groceries, of which there are 1,164 in the province. Of these, 1,810 are in the Montreal district.

In addition, there are ten licensed breweries, 44 clubs, three trading posts, and 17 steamboat and railway lines.

All told, there are 2,393 places where wine and liquor are sold in the province, outside the government stores, which have a monopoly on hard liquor, and of these all but 501 are in the Montreal district, which sheds light on the whole system of regulation.

The dispensaries are located only where public sentiment tolerates them. The liquor commission never thinks of opening a store or giving a license without first consulting the highbrow element, the clergy, as to expediency.

If the priest says so, there is nothing doing. Generally speaking, the country districts do not want stores or taverns. Drinkers know they can get their bottles from Quebec by mail.

LITTLE LOSS IN DEAN-ONATIVIA CRASH, FORECAST

Books Show Most of the Firm's Assets Are O. K.

Examination of the books of Dean, Onativia & Co., made by the Chicago Title and Trust company, the federal receiver, even though incomplete, indicates that dissolution of the business need be made without great loss, it was declared last night by Brig. Gen. Abel Davis, president of the trust company.

As he discussed the condition of the defendant company's assets, rating them, with one large exception, as good, Attorney John D. Black, counsel for Dean, Onativia & Co., announced that plans to obtain financial aid to tide over the company and to cause the dismissal of the bankruptcy suit, were proceeding with promise of success.

What Audit Reveals.

"Our cursory audit," Gen. Davis said, "has shown that the company owes about $25,000,000, of which $22,000,000 has been advanced by banks on collateral, with the remaining $3,000,000 due to other creditors and customers."

"The collateral posted with the banks gives them a 30 per cent margin on their loans. As to the value of the securities, we found that everything, with the exception of the Rosenbaum Grain company stock, in which the company had very heavy holdings, is good."

"We never know what collateral is worth until it is sold, and of course we will not sell such a large amount at once for fear of deflating the market and causing a stable shrinkage in the assets. It is our intention rather to proceed gradually so that there will be no great slump in the market."

Where Mistake Was Made.

"It was a mistake for one broker-

JARDINE CLIMBS ON COW PONY AND RIDES AMID RODEO CHEERS

Monday, N. D., July 5.—(By) William Jardine, secretary of agriculture, rode a cow pony at the Mandan round-up yesterday to the applause of the spectators.

He came here to deliver an address on agriculture and after talking to the gathering, he donned chaps and a Stetson hat, mounted a pony and rode around the arena. Secretary Jardine at one time was a range rider.

He did not bestir a bronco yesterday as he had been dared to do, because, it was explained by officials with him, he is suffering from indigestion.

The secretary's address came first on the day's crowded program. He told the farmers in the assemblage that they must help each other in solving the problems of agriculture and that they must be efficient in their farming.

one company, as is the case here with the Rosenbaum stock."

As to the efforts of the Dean, Onativia & Co. heads to obtain the aid of bankers and capitalists in providing sufficient capital to carry the Rosenbaum stock, Gen. Davis had nothing to do with that, he said.

"But I will be delighted if such an arrangement can be perfected," he added.

Attorney Black said conferences had been held, attended by company officials, large creditors, and bankers, at which the prospects of a refinancing were discussed.

"At this time nothing definite enough has grown out of these conferences to warrant an announcement," Mr. Black said. "The needed capital is being sought, both in New York and in Chicago. When the conferences were begun here Joseph Rosenbaum of the New York office and Attorney Joseph Unger, New York counsel for the company, attended them. They have re-

PETTY CRIMINAL CASES INDICATE CITY IS WORSE

Chicago's getting worse, if the number of petty criminal cases handled in the Municipal court is a correct barometer of conditions. James A. Kearns, the court clerk, reported yesterday that the criminal and quasi-criminal cases filed in the first six months of 1925 totaled 188,541, an increase of 20,954 over the similar period in 1924.

KING OF DANES CONFERS MEDALS ON CHICAGOANS

Clearance Sale of Summer Rugs

Brings Rugs in Varied Weaves and Sizes

At Prices Much Below the Usual

$5 to $12.50

Here are rugs suitable for the porch, sun-room or summer cottage. To be able to choose them so early in the season at these low prices means an opportunity very much worth while. In the sales groups are:

Fiber and Wool Rugs, Fiber Rugs and American Grass Rugs in the Heavy Qualities

Many of the fiber rugs have patterns painted in oil. Some are in the extra heavy herringbone weave which gives them a substantial quality found usually in rugs much higher in price.

The 9x12-Foot Size, $12.50; the 8 1/4x10 1/2-Foot Size, $11
The 6x9-Foot Size, $8.50; the 4 1/2x7 1/2-Foot Size, $5

Federation

"To form a more perfect union" was the animating thought of the statesmen who met to draft America's constitution. Their problem was to weld the sections they represented into a political entity that would function most efficiently and enduringly in the service of the people.

A similar problem was presented nearly a century later to the organizers of America's telephone service. Licenses under the first patents were being granted to isolated companies that were forming to introduce local service. "A more perfect union" of these companies seemed, from the beginning of the telephone's adoption by the people, to be essential, and so the structure of the Bell System was planned.

This organization exists today substantially as it was then conceived, a group of companies, each preserving its individuality and applying local knowledge to local needs, but all federated into a single cohesive union in order that nation-wide, universal service may be provided.

HOLDS U. S. MUST TIGHTEN REINS ON PHILIPPINES

Underhill Says Islands Are Valuable Base.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

TOKIO, July 5.—Rep. Charles Underhill of Massachusetts, who went to the Philippines several weeks ago, convinced that it would be to the benefit of the United States to stop the clamor of the advocates of Philippine independence by granting it at once, started homeward quite convinced to the contrary. After looking over the field, interviewing scores of Filipinos in all walks of life and watching Filipino politicians in action, he has decided that what is needed is not less American rule but more of it.

"I have completely reversed my views," he said, on a visit to Tokio. "I am now convinced that not only do the Filipinos need the security and stability guaranteed them under the American rule, but we can make it likewise a source of revenue for the United States."

Wants Stronger Defenses.

Among his congressional conferees, after he returns to Washington, he is prepared to advocate a strengthening of American control in the Philippines, to take up again the reins slackened by Gov. Gen. Burton Harrison and loosened by various recent congressional actions. He finds, he says, that the administration of justice in the islands is corrupt and growing steadily more so. The remedy, he believes, is by divorcing the judiciary from both the executive and legislative branches, bringing it directly under Washington.

He finds the legislature controlled by two men, Osmena and Quezon, both of whom are fighting the efforts of Gov. Gen. Leonard Wood for a clean, progressive administration. These men, in many ways, thwarting the governor general, and Rep. Underhill would have the powers of the legislature curtailed and those of the executive government increased.

Scores American Lately.

While in Manila, Mr. Underhill scored the American community for its failure to back up Gen. Wood and for its silence in the face of the propaganda in the United States for independence.

Mr. Underhill says that he finds nothing to support the view of some that Japan entertains any desire of occupying the Philippines.

STEALS POLICE UNIFORM, GUN; ATTACKS WOMAN

Uniform, star, and revolver of West Park Policeman Frank Tyrrell were taken from him yesterday morning as he slept in an automobile and were donned by Leo Delgado, 2044 Greenleaf avenue, who was later arrested in the act of assaulting a colored woman, according to police charges. John Sokalsky, 1124 West Jackson boulevard, companion of Tyrrell and Delgado, was also arrested.

Policemen Reardon and Calkins heard screams in the building at 544 Liberty street about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. They forced their way into the rooms occupied by Henry Davis, colored, and his wife, Maggie, seeking the cause of the screams.

Delgado and Mrs. Davis were in a bedroom, the policeman said. Sokalsky was standing guard over the husband.

Davis told the policeman that Delgado was wearing a police uniform when he came in and was brandishing a revolver. The uniform coat was found as well as the star and revolver, but Delgado readily admitted he was not a policeman.

Tyrrell was found sleeping in an automobile parked in front of the Davis home. He said he had been drinking with the other men and that he knew nothing about their breaking into the Davis home.

All of them were taken to the police station. A serious charge was placed against Delgado.

PLAT WITH MATTHEW; NEAR DEATH. Dorothy Brakowski, 6 years old, 3008 Hamilton avenue, was probably fatally burned yesterday while playing with matches.

Parents Fail to Inspire Children, Preacher Declares

Severe arraignment of parents, as lax in discipline and responsibility toward their children, was uttered yesterday by the Rev. H. J. Buckingham, rector of Christ Episcopal church, Woodlawn.

"Young people of today are no more criminally inclined, no more vicious, no less responsive to high ideals than were their fathers," he said.

"The difference is in conditions. The modern young person seems to be absolutely without control, chiefly because parents themselves are spineless, fussy, and quite indisposed to exert themselves in forming real convictions upon matters of religion and morals. Parents themselves have reared the modern boy and girl of any moral obligation to them and responsibility to the home."

HESS Welded Steel FURNACE

Hess Welded Steel Furnaces are the product of fifty-two years furnace-making experience.

They are DIFFERENT—with a reason for every point of difference, and better than ordinary furnaces.

They mean health and comfort in the home—cleanliness and economy in heating.

If your old heater is unsatisfactory or worn out it may be superseded by the Hess system, with benefit to your health and purse.

SQUARE SHAPE—gives maximum radiating area, evenly heated, none overheated.

FIRE BRICK—retains high temperatures essential to perfect and complete combustion of fuel; withstands intense heat. The only thing for oil burning.

LOW FIRE DOOR—easy to lift fuel, which is dropped just inside the door; no tunnel to firepot.

FRONT DRAFT DOOR—gives greatest effectiveness in "booming-up" fire. Chain operated from upper floor.

GRATE BARS—individually operated from outside; easy to rock gently or turn over.

LARGE ASH PIT DOOR—facilitates easy cleaning of ashes. Serves as draft door also.

WELDED STEEL RADIATOR—guaranteed never to leak dust, soot, smoke, or gas. The only acceptable construction for oil burning. Immense radiating surface. Quick results from quick heating steel.

HOT WATER COIL—provides an ever-ready supply of hot water.

RECTANGULAR FIRE BOX—of highest efficiency. Maintains even depth of fire; same area at top as at base; no dead corners; firebrick lining and individually operated grate bars.

GRATES BURN ANY FUEL—hard or soft coal, coke, lignite, soft coal slack, corn cobs. Operated separately will clean any part of the fire without disturbing the rest of it.

RECTANGULAR ASH PIT—smooth bottom, vertical sides, square corners. Your shovel reaches every part.

BOTTOM AIR SPACE—permits air supply to spread under and to all sides of radiator, insuring equal distribution of air.

Phone us—West 1013, for an expert to call and tell you what the Hess system will cost in your home. No charge—no obligation to buy. Easy monthly payments, if you like.

HIGH CAP STYLE—with pipes leading from sides, for low ceiling basements.

WATER PAN—placed high, where heat is strong, will evaporate the necessary amount to properly humidify the air.

AUTOMATIC DRAFT ACTION—automatically opens Direct Draft when fire door is opened, drawing off smoke and gases, preventing their escape into cellar when firing.

PERFORATED FIRE DOOR—sprays fresh air on fire, burning gases and smoke. Equipped with checkwheel.

AIR SUPPLY COLLAR—on either side—returns cooled air from first floor for reheating and re-circulation.

LOW CAP STYLE—for high ceiling basements; permits pipes from top; most efficient.

DIRECT DRAFT—at top of radiator, creates strong draft for emergency.

SMOKE PIPE OUTLET—direct and straight; no crooked flues to clog and reduce heating efficiency.

CHECK DRAFT—operated from above by chain.

INNER CASING—double air-space around furnace. Prevents loss of heat.

INDIRECT SMOKE OUTLET—the heat cannot escape.

CLEAN-OUT DOOR—direct access to soot chamber makes cleaning simple.

SETTLING CHAMBER—nothing to clog; the vertical sides prevent accumulation of soot to retard draft.

If you live away from the city, send us rough sketches of your floor plans and our Service Department will design for you, without charge nor obligation, a heating system guaranteed to be successful.

Lindro the great

A powerful love story of a cave man whose soul was fired by a dancing girl.

It appears complete in Liberty, out today, 5c

Think of a cave man, a towering giant, a curious left-over from the Stone Age, loose in New York! That's Lindro. . . . The buzz and giddiness of modern life had dazed him, left him utterly lonely; his huge body, fit only for battle with prehistoric beasts, was slumped down upon a park bench, helpless despite its size and great strength. . . . Yet that was only Lindro's beginning—all of which was shortly to give way before Pepita. At first sight of her, emotions dead for ages leaped into being; primitive animal instinct flared in deadly combat with the elusive powers of the human soul—then a most astounding thing happened. . . . Here's as fantastic a tale as ever you've read. Drop a nickle on the next newsstand and get a copy of Liberty. Read this amazing story. Take it home to the whole family—it's a rare thriller.

STARS OF TURF TO RUN IN DERBY AT HAWTHORNE

BY FRENCH LANE.
Derby week has its beginning at Hawthorne this afternoon and chief interest in the sport at the famous racing course is the west side for the next six days will center in the running of the three-year-old classic Saturday in which the best colts, both east and west, are expected to clash for the $25,000 prize.

With ten very lively candidates for the big race already quarantined at Hawthorne only an invasion of two or three of the headliners from the Atlantic seaboard is needed to make it one of the most important three-year-old races of the year. With good weather the crowd for the Derby promises to be a Hawthorne record breaker and the race may have an important bearing on the race for the division championship.

American Flag to Represent East.
Broadway Jones, winner of the Latonia Derby, is to be unloaded at Hawthorne today and the east will likely be represented by American Flag, the fast running son of Man-O-War, and Silver Fox, from the Rancocas stable, H. C. "Bud" Fisher may also send his colt Swope here for the event, and Dangerous may come to carry Clifford A. Cochran's silks.

American Flag, Dangerous, and Silver Fox hooked up in the Dwyer stakes at Aqueduct last Saturday and they finished in that order. Jockey Earl Sade, Arthur Johnson, and Laverne Fator are expected to have mounts in the race.

The Watkegan purse, a $15,000 allowance affair, will be run on Tuesday, July 12, and the Derby will serve as the Derby trial and most of the eligibles here at the time will be thrown into the contention. There are numerous other events on the week's program that will afford the Derby colts a chance to test their condition in actual competition.

Latonia Horses Coming

There will be an influx of horses here today and tomorrow from Kentucky, the summer season at Latonia having closed on Saturday. Among the prominent stables coming are those of Edward R. Bradley, former Senator J. N. Camden, and J. Cal Milan. Many followers of the turf were pulling in yesterday from Latonia and there will be valuable additions to the local riding colony from the same place.

M'FARLANE AND DIEGEL VICTORS

New York, July 5.—(Special.)

Willie MacFarlane and Leo Diegel, who yesterday were friendly enemies on Gene Sarazen's home course at Flushing, joined forces today and defeated Johnny Farrell and Louis Costello in an exhibition match, 5 and 1. The contest was played over the Millburn Country club's course, where Costello is "pro."

Yacht Mariner Wins Coast to Tahiti Sailing Race

San Francisco, Cal., July 5.—(Special.)

Word that the yacht Mariner, captained by L. A. Norris, had won the 1,845 mile San Francisco to Tahiti race was received yesterday by Henry A. W. Dinning of the San Francisco Yacht club. The vessel arrived at Papeete, Tahiti, at 4:30 a. m., July 4, but owing to a thirty-hour handicap given other yachts, no word was sent out until that time had elapsed.

Army Poloists Defeat Oak Brook Blues, 10-6

The 124th Field Artillery poloists yesterday defeated the Oak Brook Blues, 10 to 6, in the tenth engagement between the two squads this season at the Hinsdale field. Lieut. Col. Ragland led the victors in scoring, collecting four goals, while Crites and Butler pulled down three apiece for Oak Brook Blues. Since the season started each squad has won five contests.

Marian Leighton Wins Ohio State Net Crown

Miss Marian Leighton, women's

4 STAKE RACES ON GRAND CIRCUIT BILL

Cleveland, O., July 5.—(Special.) The Grand Circuit race meeting at North Randall enters its second week tomorrow with four $5,000 stakes and the Fasig, with $1,000 added money for 3-year-old trotters, on the program.

The first of these, the Edwards, for 2:30 pacers, is down for decision tomorrow. The Ohio for 2:30 trotters is scheduled for Wednesday; the Tavern "Stake" for 2:15 trotters Thursday, and the first racing of the Geers, in honor of the veteran driver, Ed [Pop] Geers, who was killed at Wheeling last fall, Friday. The Geers is for 2:30 trotters.

A free for all pace, in which Single G. and Anna Bradford's Girl are among the entries, also is on Friday's card.

A special feature Tuesday will be the junior drivers' stake, open to 2:15 trotters which have not won a first or second money at the meeting. Youthful sons or relatives of Grand Circuit drivers will drive.

The meeting will close Friday, unless rain interferes. Saturday is held open for postponement.

GIRLS OF STATION WHT WIN MEET AT GAELIC PARK

Girl athletes, representing Station

WHT, yesterday won the athletic meet of the Chicago Irish-American A. C. in a thrilling dual with the Midwest A. C. by a score of 49-41 before a large crowd at Gaelic park, 47th street and California avenue.

Although the meet failed to produce the expected record smashing performances, the competition was close in every event. The marks made in the hop, step and jump and in the baseball throw were exceptionally good, falling only slightly short of new world marks. All of the leading women athletes of Chicago and vicinity competed. Summaries:

60 YARD DASH—Won by Julia Grover, Midwest A. C.; Violet Kruback, Station WHT, second; Esther Nelson, station WHT, third. Time, .38.5.

100 YARD DASH—Won by Helen Filzer, station WHT; Nellie Todd, Midwest A. C. second; Katherine Lee, Midwest A. C. third. Time, .59.5.

140 YARD RELAY—Won by Midwest A. C. (Nellie Todd, Norma Zilk, Julia Grover, Mildred Horrocks); station WHT second; Midwest A. C. second team, third. Time, .54.

HOP, STEP AND JUMP—Won by Violet Kruback, station WHT; Mildred Horrocks, Midwest A. C. second; Mildred Horrocks, Midwest A. C. third. Distance, 93 feet 4 1/2 inches.

8 POUND SHOT PUT—Won by Mildred Horrocks, Midwest A. C.; Violet Kruback, station WHT, second; Katherine Lee, Midwest A. C. third. Distance, 27 feet 10 inches.

EIGHT JUMP—Won by Peter Teichman, station WHT; Violet Kruback, station WHT, second; Mildred Horrocks, Midwest A. C. third. Height, 4 feet 10 inches.

DISCUS THROW—Won by Mildred Horrocks, Midwest A. C.; Violet Kruback, station WHT, second; Elizabeth Sheffield, Midwest A. C. third. Distance, 394 feet 4 inches.

HAROLD OSBORN WINS DEATHLON IN A. U. GAMES

DEATHLON POINTS

AN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 5.—Following are points in the deathlon, emblematic of national individual all-around champion-

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
(Picture on back page.)

San Francisco, Cal., July 5.—[Special.]—A memorable triumph in the deathlon by Harold Osborn of Illinois Athletic club and New York

Athletic club's clean up of first place in all five relay races, featured the closing day of the three day A. U. track and field championships in Kezar Memorial stadium here today.

Osborn set a precedent for national track and field competition.

He is the only man to have won twice the deathlon, replacing the former A. U. all-around champion in 1915. Osborn also won in 1923.

He gathered 704.55 points today, setting a new American record and winning within five points of his own world mark of 710.775, set in the last Olympic games.

The relay program was a succession of impressive victories for the winged foot of New York. All five relays were won by decided margins.

Break World's Record.

In the 400 relay New York's sprint man of Frank Hummel, Joe Todd, J. O. McDonald, and Joseph Scholz, beat the former world record, establishing a mark of 1:12.5, which will be submitted for sanction. The former accepted world record was 1:22.5 by another New York A. C. quartet, Harold Osborn, J. T. Levey, Ray, and Carroll, in 1921.

Had the competition been more brisk, New York probably also would have created a world record in the 800 relay, which McDonald, Allen Wood, J. T. Levey, and Scholz won in 1:27.5, equalling the present record.

Hollywood A. C. provided the only competition for Gotham club men in both the two mile and four mile relays which went to New York, respectively 8:59.25 and 19:29.15. New York won the two mile by 149 yards, the four mile by 40 yards.

Otto Anderson, an athlete from the University of Southern California, nearest to the victory of Hollywood A. C. placed second, Osborn in the deathlon by a narrow margin over Paul Jones, preacher-athlete, of the I. A. C. squad. Harry Frieda, a third member of the I. A. C. team, finished fourth in the deathlon. Justin Russell, another I. A. C. contestant, dropped out of the deathlon after a few miles.

WOMAN NET STAR ARRIVES IN EAST AHEAD OF TIME

New York, July 5.—[Special.]—Helen Willis, the national women's tennis champion, has stolen a march on the tennis world, by arriving in New York ahead of time.

Willis, who has been looking forward to her arrival here some time next week, has been in New York since Friday.

Quietly and without any announcement from the Pacific coast she left for the east last week with her mother and is now quartered at Forest Hills.

There, on the courts of the West Side Tennis club, Miss Willis will practice this week, leaving on Saturday for Boston, where she will play in her first eastern tournament of the year.

Mrs. Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman, with whom she holds the national Olympic and English doubles titles, in conducting a tournament in connection with the men's Longwood bowl classic and Miss Willis will be numbered among the contenders.

GRID STARS TO BE PALLBEARERS FOR R. M. MURPHY

Washington, Pa., July 5.—[Special.]—Six young men, four of them gridiron athletes of Washington and Jefferson colleges, who gave of their blood in an effort to check pernicious anemia from which R. M. Murphy, graduate manager of athletics at institution was a sufferer, will be pallbearers at his funeral services which will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the chapel of Washington and Jefferson college.

Those who volunteered to give of their blood and underwent transfusion operations were:

J. Alex. Wiley of Washington, who for a number of years was assistant to Graduate Manager Murphy; Guy L. Johnson of Toledo college, who gave of his blood; Walter Long of Cranston, Denton Williams of Washington, and Paul A. Kasper of Akron, Ohio.

Five Chicago men who were included in the list of seeded players in the Northern Indiana Tennis association championships which open at Whiting, Ind., today to continue through Saturday.

According to the draw made yesterday by W. E. Braund, secretary of the Chicago Tennis association, all of the local players, including the seeded ones, will see action on the opening round today.

Chicago men who were seeded in the draw are: Art Shaw, Art Kaiser, J. R. Rolley, Searle Barnett, and Charles Lejack. Bill Kinzel, who upset the dope in the recent city championship meet by defeating Art Hubbell, twice winner of the Whiting meet, is also entered.

AN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 5.—[Special.]—When Harold Osborn leaped away from the start at the crack of the gun in the 1,500 meter race, the last event of the A. U. U. deathlon here today, he started on a sprint that will land him in Europe. When he crossed the finish line he did not slacken his pace, but kept on running down the track and through the club house to a waiting taxi. He changed to his street clothes while the taxi bore him to the station, where he had just time to board a train for Chicago. There he will change trains for New York in order to go to Europe with the remainder of the I. A. C. team, which sails from New York July 9. The other members of the team had left after yesterday's events.

WEATHER OF NEXT TWO WEEKS WILL FIX SPRING WHEAT

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Crop experts say that weather conditions of the next two weeks will determine the size of the spring wheat crop in the American northwest and all about what Canada will have. Present prospects are good and the trade is mostly bearish, but the impression prevails among a number of trade leaders that a decline of 25% in July wheat and late in September wheat will discount the bearish conditions.

A depressing factor of late has been the absence of general support with a little hedging from the southwest, a poor export demand, and the fact that the reverse of the present situation, with a light speculative short interest, prices move erratically within a liberal range.

Different from Last Year. Surroundings in the wheat situation are almost opposite those of a year ago. Then prospects were for a serious shortage in the European production, with a good crop in the United States and a poor one in Canada.

A year ago foreigners were in the market buying wheat, while this year they are out. Farmers are selling wheat freely, the reverse of the present situation, although it is a little early for a heavy movement, which is expected to be on inside of two weeks.

As to the foreign situation, supplies are the lowest in years. It is believed that should anything happen to the spring wheat crop in Canada, European buyers will come into the market and load up freely, while at present Canadian wheat for October delivery around $1.10, according to reports received from a large London house.

Government Report July 5. On Thursday this week the trade will get the government report which is expected to lower winter wheat yields by about 100,000,000 bushels and increase spring wheat to about 275,000,000 bushels. Last month the total was 661,000,000 bushels and last year 675,000,000 bushels, while the five year average was 677,000,000 bushels.

Canadian traders, who are bearish are putting out what many operators here call extravagant estimates on their crop; one of the Winnipeg traders claims 450,000,000 bushels, while the record is 475,000,000 bushels. These figures have had a depressing influence on the market, and the trade is feeling its effects. Were the trade in western Canadian provinces to have 22,000,000 acres, which is more than 2,000,000 acres above the grain grown estimates, with a yield of 20 bushels per acre, there would be 440,000,000 bushels, which is considered a big yield.

Prices for the Week. July wheat closed Friday at $1.41 1/2, off 1/4; September, $1.39 1/2, off 1/4; December, $1.40 1/2, off 1/4. Spreading between near and late is 1/4. The northwestern traders are in a good position, and the market is feeling its effects.

BRITISH MINERS' DEMANDS FIND ECHO IN STOCK

BY LORIMER HAMMOND.

(Copyright: 1925: The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, July 5.—Old King Coal once again is disturbing the peace and prosperity of British business.

The troubles which have been long smoldering between the miners and operators leaped up against this week, reaching the most dangerous stage in many weeks, but the crisis will not come before the middle of July or later.

Railways Also Involved.

The English railways also are involved in a delicate labor situation, the roads and mines claiming that they cannot keep up with the competition of continental firms unless the men agree to lower rates commensurate with those paid on the continent. The labor crisis is now not only hurting home rails, but it is exerting a sharp and adverse effect on scores of industrial and other issues.

The abrupt fluctuations of the French franc stirred up the field of international securities, the Italian lira alsoavoring wildly before it was controlled by late support.

Reactions set in this week after the recent tumbles taken by leading issues in the gilt edged field. The low prices evidently attracted numerous investors. After that the general tone of English funds, war loans, and reconstructions were bolstered up.

Chinese Bonds Improve.

Chinese government bonds regained a certain measure of confidence, as cables from Peking and Canton indicate that the gravity of the political and industrial situation is abating. Toward the end of the week, however, Chinese securities suffered from fresh occurrences of a disturbing nature, falling off again. Athens' bloodless military coup d'état caused singularly little quaking in Greek bonds, which are held in considerable numbers by British investors. The first day or two Greek bonds were panicky, but they have now resumed their normal level, and a few issues have even improved.

The rubber market remains the most lively spot in the city, as far as volume of trading is concerned. Only securities are limited, while delivery reports indicate a growing dearth of supplies in London. The New York quotations are keeping pace with the English, the American demand continuing strong.

The oil department is sluggish and reactionary.

INSULL CONCERN OBTAINS PLANTS IN SOUTHWEST

Another step toward establishing strategic positions when the time comes for the inevitable unification of electric power plants into a nation-wide super-power system was taken yesterday by the Insull interests, when the acquisition of the Central Power and Light company by the Middle West Utilities company was announced.

This is the second corporation operating in far distant parts to be taken over by Samuel Insull and his associates. The first was taken over about two weeks ago, and operates in the state of Maine. The Central Power and Light company operates directly in Arkansas, and has subsidiaries in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Mississippi, and Mexico. It supplies electric light and power, gas, water, and electric railway transportation in one or more forms to 45 communities.

The Middle West Utilities company and its subsidiaries serve 1,041 communities in 18 states. Samuel Insull is chairman and Martin J. Insull, his brother, is president.

Congoleum-Nairn, Inc.

B. L. C.—Congoleum-Nairn, Inc. (formerly the Congoleum company, Inc.)—Listed on the New York Stock exchange as "Congoleum," reported earnings equal to $1.81 a share, on the no-par common stock in 1924. During the first half of 1925, as a result of generally dull business in the textile and floor covering industry, the business and sales of the company were not satisfactory or up to expectations. On this account it appears not unlikely that the dividend may be reduced from $3 to $2 per annum at the meeting of the board of directors this month. The stock deserves a fair rating, but is quite speculative at present.

Chile Copper.

M. J. G.—Chile Copper company reported a net income of $11,835,937 or $2.48 per share on its stock ($25 par) in 1924, compared with $11,721,244, or $2.35 a share in 1923. There is an issue of $25,000,000 collateral trust bonds outstanding ahead of its $109,775,500 capital stock. Total surplus at the end of 1924 stood at $7,164,095, against $6,788,907 at the end of 1923. Current assets amounted to $28,851,486 at the close of 1924 and current liabilities to $4,682,489, leaving net working capital of $24,168,997. The company's stock is of medium grade and speculative, but has merit.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

(Copyright: 1925: Fairchild News Service.)

NEW YORK, July 5.—(Special.)—Stalls are expecting an excellent volume of trading in gray goods tomorrow as there has been a full-size Thursday noon when the government crop report was issued. Buyers hesitated to make commitments in the short period intervening between the report and the holiday, so good business is looked for in the early part of this week. Prevailing quotations are 8 1/2c for 64x20, 5.55 yards to the pound; 10 1/2c for 68x72, 4.75 yards to the pound; 11 1/2c for 72x70, 4.35 yards to the pound; and 15 1/2c for the 80 square, 4.00 yards to the pound.

NEW YORK.—Advices over the holiday and weekend from Tokushima and Canton indicate inactive and easier markets in the primary silk centers. Not much inquiry has accumulated here and the expectations are that prices in New York will be lower when trading is resumed tomorrow. Prevailing quotations are $6.68x6.75 for the double extra A, and $5.40x5.50 for the best No. 1. New style Cantons are $5.95x6.00 for the 16-18s, and $5.30x5.35 for the 20-22s.

PARIS, July 6.—Despite the pressure, Gen. Guillaume, c of the army on the Rhine, refused the cabinet's invita command of the operations i under the supervision of M
Lyautey, demanding an abso hand.

Gen. Weygand, Debeney port having also refused the ment, being either unwilling under Marshal Lyautey or t cabinet refused to allow the troops they demanded, the g then offered the post to Ge lete, former commander of army, who declined it.

Obscure General Gets
The government late today announced that Gen. Stanislas Naulin, an officer of a division now sent to the Rhine army, who has been in Algeria, to accept the job of commander in chief of the 1st Army, Gen. Naulin nominally will be commander in chief, but actually will have full authority and responsibility in the field. He commanded the troops during the plebiscite in Alsace.

Report Moors Capture
A Reuters telegram printed in the communist paper, Humani, announces that Abd-el Krim has taken the town of Taza, from where the French evacuated all women and children and cut the main railway to Morocco and Algeria.

An official communique to the press directly denies this sensational report. The newspaper Matin also announced that the town of Taza, in the north, west and east of Taza, the railway runs east and west of Taza, the Rifians must have cut the railway and probably also the town. The Matin also said that 4,000 well armed Moroccan men living just north of Taza supported the French and joined the real objective of Krim's army in the Taza sector is to raise the Rifians in eastern Morocco against the French.

The French now have 80,000 troops in Morocco, of which half are French and the new commander has estimated that between 50,000 and 75,000 more will be required. As most of the troops are conscripts, the French army is short of colors in France are not available. The war ministry plans to send 10,000 Moroccan troops from the

Hear Britain Will Act
It is reported in Paris today that Great Britain is preparing troops to Tangier, ostensibly to prevent outbreaks by Abd-el Kader.
